Walt Disney World, or simply Disney World, is an entertainment complex in Bay Lake, near Orlando in Florida. The park opened on October 7, 1971 and it is the most visited vacation area in the world, with an attendance of 52.5 million annually. It is owned and operated by Walt Disney Parks and Resorts, a division of The Walt Disney Company. The whole property houses 27 themed resort hotels, four theme parks, two water parks, four golf courses, one camping resort, one residential area and additional recreational and entertainment venues. Magic Kingdom was the first and original theme park to open in the complex followed by Epcot, Disney's Hollywood Studios, and Disney's Animal Kingdom which opened later throughout the 1980s and 1990s.

In 1959, Walt Disney Productions began looking for land for a second park to supplement Disneyland, which opened in California, in 1955. Walt Disney wanted control of a much larger area of land for the new project. So, Walt Disney flew over the Orlando - area site in November 1963. Seeing the well-developed network of roads, Disney selected a centrally located site near Bay Lake.

When Magic Kingdom opened in 1971, the site employed about 5,500 "cast members". Today Walt Disney World employs more than 66,000 cast members. The resort operates the Walt Disney World College Programme, an internship programme that offers American college students, the opportunity to live about 24 km off-site in four Disney-owned apartment complexes and work at the resort. There is also the Walt Disney World International College Programme, an internship programme that offers international college students from all over the world the same opportunity.

Walt Disney wanted people to be able to reach all Disney resorts very easily. In fact, a fleet of Disney-operated buses on property, named Disney Transport, is free for all guests. In 2007, Disney Transport started a guest services upgrade to the buses. On the buses there are recordings which give safety information, park tips and other general announcements, with music. Besides buses, Disney Transport also operates a fleet of water-transportation, ranging in size from water taxis up to the ferries.
